Product Description

Product Description:

Air-Cooled Condenser is a type of cooling facility that works alongside cooling equipment. It comes in three available types: H, V, and W. The H type blows air from the side, while the V and W types blow air from the roof.

This condenser boasts a well-thought-out structure and excellent interchangeability. It is adaptable for use with various types of compressors.

There are two types of fins available: window fin and honeycomb fin, catering to the diverse needs of different customers.

Features:

The air tightness test is conducted at 3.0MPa air pressure to guarantee the product meets high air tightness quality standards upon leaving the factory.

The film spacing can be adjusted between 1.7mm to 3.0mm to cater to various customer requirements in different environmental conditions.

Various types of condensing fans can be customized according to the specific needs of customers.

Applications:

When it comes to cooling solutions for refrigeration units, the Damai Air Cooler Condenser (Model: DM-HNH) is a top choice. This product is designed and manufactured in China, ensuring quality and reliability.

The Air Cooler Condenser is suitable for a wide range of applications, making it versatile and practical. One of the key product attributes is its corrosion resistance, proven by passing the Salt Spray Test for up to 1000 hours. This durability ensures longevity and efficiency, even in challenging environments.

Whether it's for cold storage facilities, air conditioning units, or refrigeration systems, the Air Cooler Condenser by Damai offers exceptional performance. The fins type options of flat or corrugated provide flexibility to suit different cooling needs and preferences.
